STUDENT BODY OFFICERS - Amber Meritt, Dawn Seto, Shannon Macedo, and Cristine Horner

This year's Student Body Officers were Amber Meritt, President; Cristine Horner, Vice-president; Shannon Macedo, Secretary; and Dawn Seto, Treasurer. All of the officers were very active and very supportive of the school's activities. They attended a conference of student council members in February and went to a senior leadership conference in Show Low. They were instrumental in starting a Motivational Media show of their own for the whole school.

Council meetings are always so exciting.

This year's Student Council had the "write" answers to all the "stuff" here at Winslow High. The Student Council is made up of the four student body officers, the president and representatives from each class, and the president of each club. They have say over all the activities and money making projects at WHS.

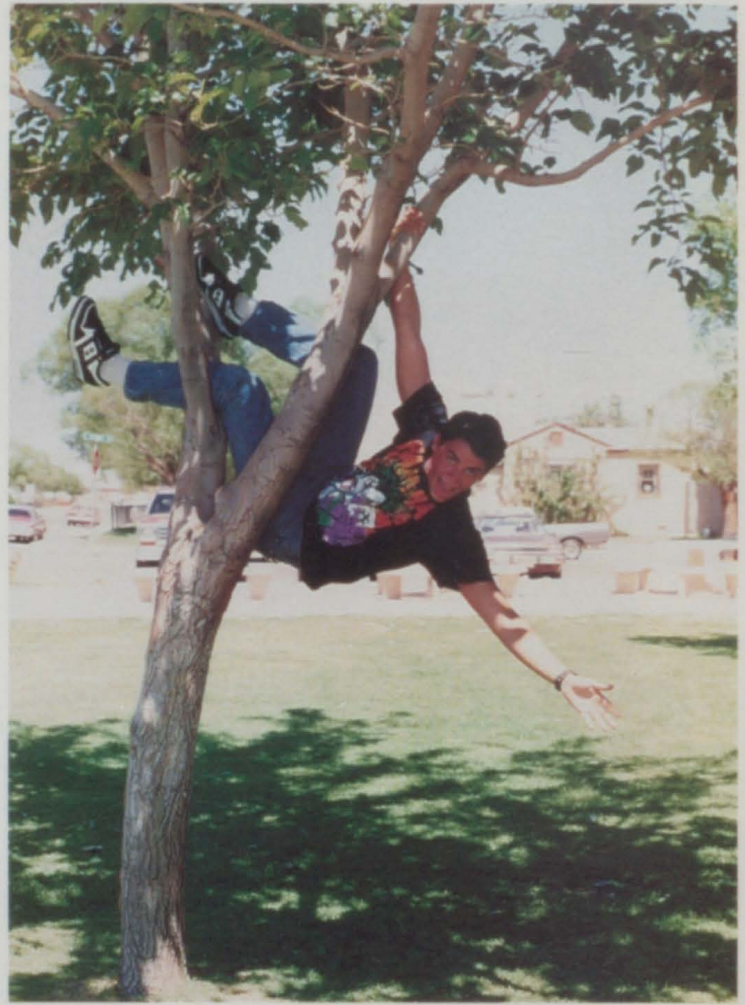

Some of the Student Council members attended Show Low's Leadership Conference again this year.

"I pledge allegiance to the...I'm SO hungry!"

Royalty subscribed to service

Thomas Riker is this year's Annual King with all the "Write Stuff". He is the cartoonist for the Bulldog Barks and very interested on pursuing a career in cartooning. He is also lifeguard at the city pool. His hobbies include drawing, helping the senior class, and getting a tan.

Janice Monroe also has the "Write Stuff" as this year's Annual Queen. She is one of the senior class' most dedicated members. She helped with the floats, was on Prom committee, and attended all class meetings and functions. Her hobbies include drawing and messing around.

Perfect type for dedicatee

This year's Meteor dedicatee is Mr. John Henling, who is a Holbrook High School graduate.

He began his teaching career at Valley Union High School in Elfrida, Arizona. He then came to Winslow and has been teaching here for over 10 years.

He is married to Anita, who is a teacher's aide at Bonnie Brennan School, and they have two children, Elise and Jeremy.

He has coached baseball at WHS, and is now a sponsor for the Key Club and the Writers Club. Some of his hobbies include building and selling homes with his brother Jim, woodcutting, traveling, and spending time with his family and church.

Hangin' Tough - 1989-90

The theme for this year's Homecoming festivities was "Hangin' Tough".

Dedicatees named during the assembly were cheer sponsor Connie Gover and principal Paul Reynolds. Special honorary dedicatees were Barbara and Emil Nasser. Bulldog Stadium was officially renamed Emil Nasser Stadium.

Devon Sawyer and Tisha Langston were crowned King and Queen. Royalty candidates included Quentin Hayes, Mark Pollard, James Williams, Danny Young, Kristy Stevens, Yvette Ellsworth, Amber Meritt, and Jennifer Eggen.

The seniors took first place in the float building contest. The sophomores were second, the freshmen were third, and the juniors were fourth.

The Bulldogs lost a tough Homecoming game to a good Show Low contest, but everyone enjoyed the dance after the game.

Moments to Remember

Seeing a teacher with a sense of humor.
When I went to state for speech and drama.
When I moved to Winslow.
When I caught the winning touchdown pass against Tuba City this year.
When I won regionals in boxing.
Firsts.
When I had my first kiss.
Playing basketball before a bunch of wild people at Window Rock.
When we took state.
Breaking up with my girlfriend.
When my father let me drag race.
Car accidents.
When I was told I was a Homecoming Queen candidate.
When I met the guy of my dreams ... from another school.
Spending the evening with Paula Abdul.

Making staight A's.
Going out of town.
Every Friday.
When I was crowned Homecoming Queen.
Honor Society discussions.
Going to lunch with Shasta and Jonnie.
Going to the dances.
Summertime.
Chosen Homecoming King.
The time when M.P. and N.W. mooned my mother thinking she was me.
When my boyfriend slammed me into the snow.
Prom night 1989.
Someone special.
Meeting the perfect guy.
Winning the State Championship in 1988.

Team gets to state playoffs

The Lady Bulldogs fielded one of the tallest teams in the state this year, and they compiled a season record of 16-9. After finishing 3rd in the East conference, the Lady Bulldogs advanced to the state playoffs where they finished a strong third.

Congratulations to all-conference team members Elisha Johns, Karen Cox, Sharon Cox, Cristine Horner, Micki Williams, and Shan Almon. Elisha was also named to the all-state team.

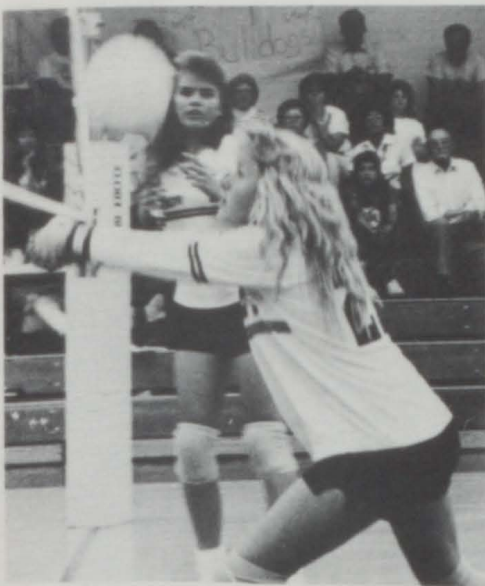

Coach Liz McLaws was named as Coach of the Year.

Young teams hold their own

This year's girls cross country team faced several problems including a low turnout and low grades. However, Arlene Toney and Jolene Pfulb qualified for the state meet with high finishes in the regional meet.

The boys team was a young team with no seniors. The team was made up of mostly sophomores with a sprinkle of juniors. Darrell Williams finished in the top 20 at the regional meet while the team finished second in the East meet and seventh in the regional meet.

Members of the boys team set out to defeat Holbrook during a dual meet.

Colleen Hunter, Angie Williams, and Charity Begay cross the finish line as a team.

Martin Yazzie passes a Holbrook runner.

This year's Cheerleaders and Poms drew some pep during games and rallies. The both enjoyed camps during the summer and came back with spotlight dances and cheers. Cheer put together Homecoming and sold some really 'Bad To The Bone' t-shirts. Pom had many fundraisers selling balloons, flowers, and candy. These two support groups really added spirit to the life of the school.

The squad builds a mound during a pep assembly in the gymnasium.

This year's Pom squad numbered four freshmen, two sophomores, four juniors, and one senior. They performed at every home game and pep rally.

YEARBOOK

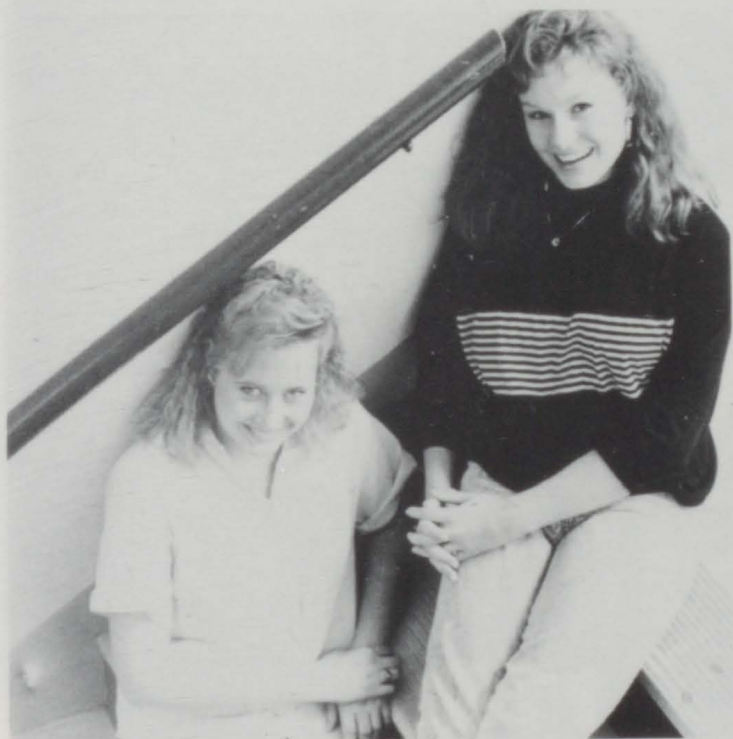

1989-90 Meteor Staff

James Reese and Fred Harris, "We don't know what to do; we're rookies."

This year's METEOR staff put in long hours, even nights, to get out this edition on time. Winners of the PICA award for yearbook excellence, the staff added more color pages, more graphics, and more style.

Editors Amber Meritt and Sandi Williams were stern taskmasters at times, but the staff worked well together and finished a fine product. Assistant Editor Dawn Seto generally finished early and went home.

Gina White and Kristy Stevens show where veterans hide in the halls.

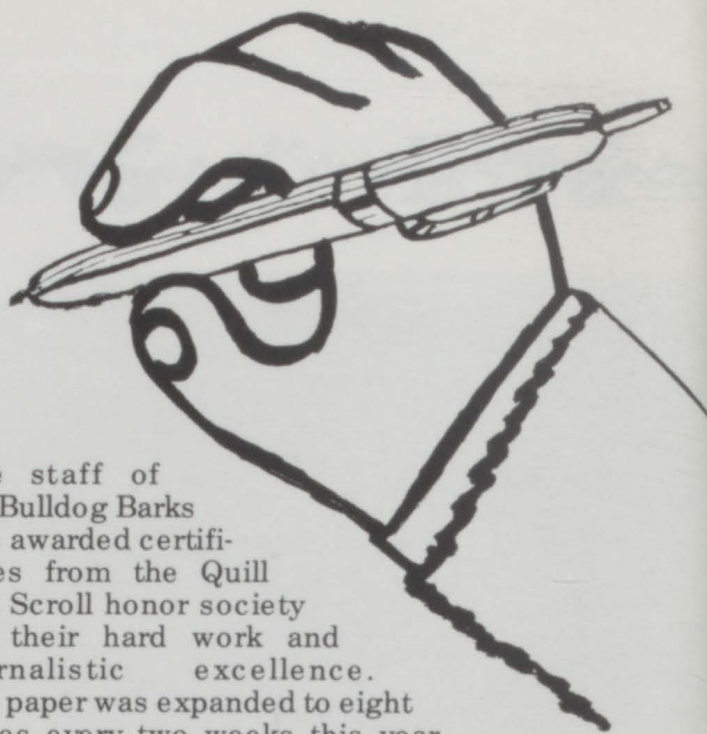

Micki Williams and Traci Rogers goof off in the hall. So, what else is new?

Barks staff won national awards

Georgia Kretsedemas and Betsy Simonton handled features.

The staff of the Bulldog Barks was awarded certificates from the Quill and Scroll honor society for their hard work and journalistic excellence. The paper was expanded to eight pages every two weeks this year.

Michele Lorge and Brandy Damron were new additions to the staff.

Kelli Bull and Stephanie Black were selected to the staff as sophomores.

GIRLS STATE - Yvette Ellsworth, Sandi Williams, and Amber Meritt.

Yvette Ellsworth, Amber Meritt, and Sandi Williams (Alternate) were our Girl Staters this year. The girls had to fill out petitions and had to be judged by the teachers. Then, if they were nominated, the senior class judged them. The highest 3 scores were chosen to go to Girls State which was held at U of A, and lasted 5 days. The Boy Staters this year were Richie Bratt, Mark Pollard, Mark Palma, and Adam Leeds (Alternate). The guys also had to go through the same procedures as the girls. Boys' State was held at N.A.U. and also lasted 5 days. We're lucky to have such dedicated guys.

Members of the band provide music for the Homecoming assembly held in the fall.

This year, the beginning and advanced band faced many hardships. Many of their extracurricular activities were cancelled, including the traditional trips to the Arizona State University Band Day and the State Fair.

However, they did participate in the Solo and Ensemble competition, and the students enjoyed a trip at the end of the year.

The band received new uniforms this year and were able to wear them at the annual Winslow Christmas Parade.

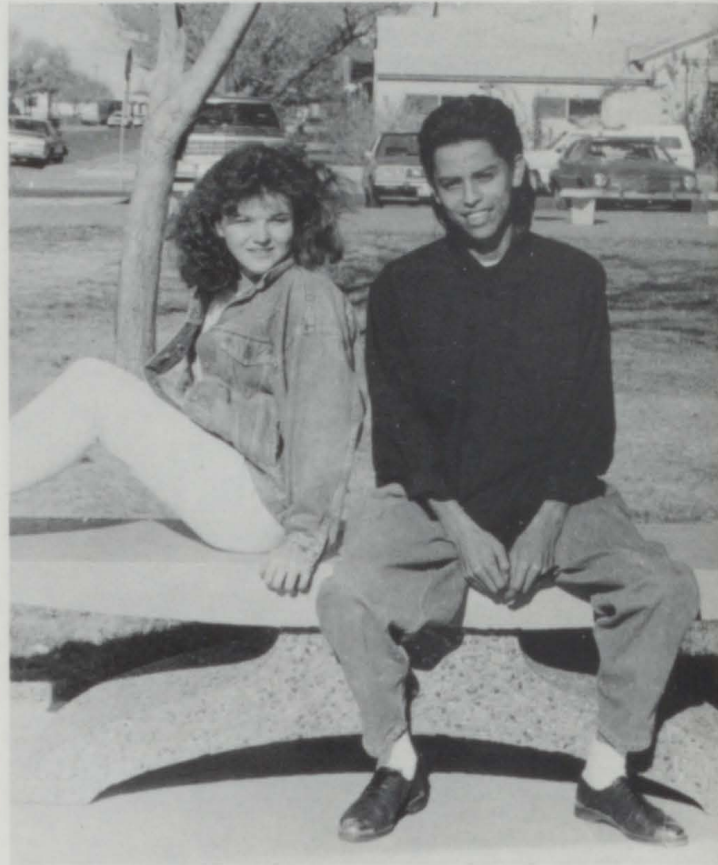

Darold Natseway, the director, said the band improved much this year and were exceptional Bulldog supporters.

1989-90 was another great year for one of the oldest activities at Winslow High School-Speech and Drama. Sponsor Bill Hays assisted club members in several competition categories including humorous, serious, dramatic, poetry, and original and duo improvisation.

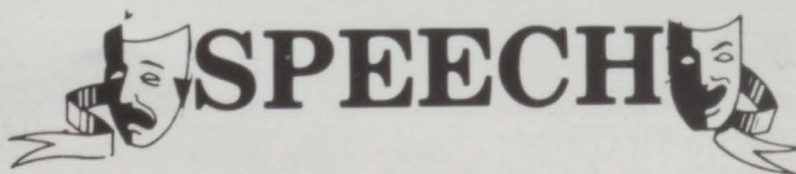

The speech season lasted from October until April with tournaments all over the state.

Winslow's home tournament was held on January 12 and 13. Virginia Mills took 1st in poetry and Shelly Webster took 5th in serious prose.

The drama department presented The Hobbit, a favorite of the cast and audience. Production was scheduled for the end of February.

The Verla Oare Chapter of the National Honor Society had another busy year, and all of its members were enthusiastic.

They lent a hand during the Very Special Arts Festival in the fall, and decorated the Christmas tree in the main hall, a yearly tradition.

The seniors travelled to Portland, Oregon in the spring to visit another school and to have a great time in another part of the country.

This year's Governing Board consisted of five members: Lucy Horner, President, Sue Hancock, Terry Duboise, Joe Benham, and Dodie Montoya. They were responsible for the school district's policies and budget. They hired new staff and continued with the building improvement program.

As representatives of the community, they represented the final say on any concern before the school district. One of their major decisions concerned the hiring of a new Assistant Superintendent. Bonnie Brennan Principal Gary Calhoun was named to the post.

Embarrassing Moments

I ran into a pole at the Sonic. The whole building shook.

Jeannie

During my freshman year at another school, I pledged a school sorority. My 'sisters' asked a senior boy to lay down while they put whipped cream on his chest. They then told me to lick it off. He did, but I couldn't.

Kristy

I didn't notice that I had walked into a teachers' meeting in the library before school.

Frog

I did a perfect round off during my first pep assembly, but I forgot to wear my cheerleading briefs. The left side of the gym applauded me.

Dawn

I had many embarrassing moments when I was learning the English language.

Daniele

I fell off a curb.

Shasta

I went into Mr. Hiner's room with a ski mask on and yelled, "Freeze!"

Michael S.

I was called over the intercom at Wal-mart to pick up something I left behind.

Taezia

I was with this gorgeous guy and I let out a massive burp.

Amber

We stalled Mr. Taylor's car in the middle of the road at the end of lunch hour. We had to push it all the way around the teacher's lot while everyone laughed.

Scott Rowland

I fell in the alley by the gym.

Janith

When I came back to Winslow.

Edward

In a snow tubing accident, I landed on my head and just my feet were sticking out of the snow.

Ramona

Michael Shipman pushed me into the snow.

Mark

I was going to buy a friend lunch at Circle K. But when we got to the counter, I found out that I had no money.

Patricia

Tripping on the steps.

Vandrew

I was looking for Room 24 on my first day and there isn't one.

Yvonne

One night I put my truck into a steep ditch and a cold, sharp barbed-wire fence.

Kenniven

The track coach told me to take a seat next to his wife during a sports banquet.

Elisha

Transferring to Holbrook.

Richard

Getting hosed down by a bunch of girls.

Michael

I drove my truck without any oil and it blew up.

Scott L.

Instead of doing a round off at an assembly I fell and hit my head.

Lisa

Spring Break at Roosevelt, 1989.

Tisha

I dropped a girl off at Boom Boom Balloons and went to get gas. She called by dad and said I left her at Lee Earl's Motel!

Adam

I walked into a ladies restroom in Flagstaff when it was occupied!

Richard

I almost fell off the 1989 Christmas parade float.

Shelly

I slipped in the icy parking lot and fell in front of a bunch of freshmen.

Daryl

Coming back to Winslow.

Weldon

Tripping on the stairs.

Philliscita

During a basketball game, I dived for a ball and ran into Sativa Peterson, knocking her down and spilling her coke.

Nathan

When I struck a pedestrian crossing the street.

Gina

I fell down in front of Basha's while it was raining.

Randy

When I was a freshman I tripped in front of the seniors.

Sharon

Getting caught for sneaking out of my house twice in a row.

Steven

I slipped on some ice by the science building.

Terri Rae

When the volleyball team threw me into the shower and I walked out in front of the varsity football team.

Yvette

When I tried out for cheerleading I was so nervous I forgot my cheer and had to start over.

Chantelle

When I slid on some ice and fell on the sidewalk.

Kelly

Adios, Amigos!

*High school has come and gone so fast,
But through it all we have memories sure to last.
Football games, floats, and Friday night dances,
New friends, Prom, new dreams, and classes,
An occasional party and crazy clownish ways,
All fit in with the role the teenager plays.
Yes, high school life can be great fun,
As long as something is learned or done.
Through it all we have survived and lived,
And now it's time to give what we have to give.
So down that long path we follow,
Because our future is just one more tomorrow.
Our dreams and goals are waiting to be achieved,
Waiting at our fingertips there to fulfill the need.
So enter into the world with hopes and glories,
And give the world all your dreams and stories.
But don't forget what you have left behind,
As you grow old, memories fill your mind.
One last thought and, WHS, a final farewell,
When you are gone, you'll miss it like hell.*

Editors Amber Meritt and Sandi Williams say thanks to all of the staff this year and have a great future WHS!
